Production notes: This newsletter has been written using Microsoft Word 97, a not so new state of the art dell 2650 INSPIRON Notebook Computer and printed on a Lexmark Z22. The fonts are various Startrek fonts and the main body is typed in Arial 11pt. Spell Checking is the fault of Microsoft Word 97. The Captain is responsible for alterations to any articles as submitted due to space (no not the final frontier...). Production assistants were Dewey, Cheatem, and Howe Law firm.

FROM THE SECRETARY'S DESK:

On 12 January 2k8, the USS Thunderchild, NCC 3122 held its first meeting of a brand new year. Most members were present and the other missing crew personnel were accounted for. This was a good thing as no search parties were necessary and no red shirts permanently disappeared. There was plenty of new business discussed: Nominations for Ship Awards~active membership reminders
 Design a t-shirt for our annual March for Babies~note: there is a deadline!
 New Star Quilt~CMN's annual Duck Race
 In addition, in 2k9, we are entering a float in Rapid City's annual Festival of Lights parade, Our bold, new adventure is in the visionary stage, at the moment; however, one year shall fly by at warp speed. Anyone interested in submitting ideas and/or drawings, please contact one of the Captains, ASAP.
 It was suggested that each crew member chair a monthly meeting. The motion received a positive response and so ordered.
 Our financial report was given by Captain Jim. We are in the black, at present. Not for Profit status was discussed, along with growth and stability of funds.
 Meeting adjourned! QaPlaa!!

FIRST SEAT TO THE RIGHT

Capt Jim Bakken, XO

At our last meeting, we set up our schedule for the coming year, but we seem to have overlooked one major event. The new Star Trek movie, intentionally not called Star Trek 11, is scheduled to debut in November or December, and we will want to be there, as we have for almost every other ST movie.

I would really like to see the whole crew there in uniforms. Ship shirts are okay for highway pickups and March of Dimes walks, but to me they just don't seem to fit the occasion of a movie premiere. I have patterns for the TOS and TNG uniforms. Since they are already cut, only those who are my size would be able to use them, but I can provide the pattern numbers so others can buy them, if they are still available. There is a good chance that we can get the material at reasonable prices if we watch the sale ads. Then maybe we could have a sewing bee at one or two of our meetings so we can help each other get outfitted for the big night. Let me know what you think at the next meeting. Live Long and Prosper,
Capt Jim

AND NOW FROM THE SICK HUMOR DEPT:

And now for the Sick Humor Dept:

Q: What do Bajorans and Ferengi have in common?

A: They both worship prophets (profits, whatever!)

Q: Why doesn't Bruce get into the latest fashion trend?

A: There's no fuchsia in it.

Q: Why does Capt Jim need to go to the vet clinic?

A: "Cause he's a sick puppy!

There you go! Happy now?

LL&P,
JB

Final Words

VcoC/FCPT Eugene Schnitger

Greetings and Halucinations from the Center Seat.

Its been a good month so far, other than begging for articales. I have been getting my feet wet (or at least getting my eyes opened) with the new position I am holding with Starfleet International, And I thought doing this newsletter was taxing.

I want to remind the crew of the T-shirt design contest for the March of Dimes walk, and the design sumission for the light parade float.

Finally I would like to pass on some web-links that you may enjoy...
